Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements

September 30, 2007 and 2006

1. Nature of Operations and Going Concern

Call Genie Inc. (“the Company”) or (“CGI”) was incorporated under the laws of Canada on October 17, 2000 and was continued into Alberta on February 5, 2003. On August 17, 2004 the Company amalgamated with GRD Enterprises Inc. (“GRD”) with CGI being the surviving entity.

The consolidated financial statements have been prepared in accordance with Canadian generally accepted accounting principles on a going concern basis which presumes the realization of assets and discharge of liabilities in the normal course of business for the foreseeable future. Because the Company has derived limited revenue from its technology development projects, its ability to continue operations is uncertain and dependent upon the successful completion of technical and market development of such technology and achieving profitable operations. Additional financing may also be required. The outcome of these matters cannot be predicted at this time. These consolidated financial statements do not include any adjustments to the amounts and liabilities that might be necessary should the Company be unable to continue in business.

2. Significant Accounting Policies

The consolidated financial statements of the Company have been prepared by management in accordance with Canadian generally accepted accounting principles. The preparation of consolidated financial statements in conformity with Canadian generally accepted accounting principles requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the amounts reported in the consolidated financial statements and accompanying notes. Actual results could differ from those estimates. The consolidated financial statements have, in management’s opinion, been properly prepared using careful judgment with reasonable limits of materiality and within the framework of the significant accounting policies summarized below.

(a) Consolidation

The consolidated financial statements include its subsidiaries Call Genie (Ontario) Inc. since its date of incorporation September 11, 2003, Call Genie (USA) Inc., since its date of incorporation October 7, 2003 and Call Genie Europe B.V., since its date of incorporation July 6, 2007. All material intercompany transactions have been eliminated.

(b) Cash and cash equivalents

Included in cash and cash equivalents are bank balances and cashable short term investments cashable with maturities of three months or less at the date of acquisition.

(c) Technology and product development costs

Technology and product development costs are expensed in the year incurred unless the Company believes a development project meets generally accepted criteria for deferral and amortization. There have been no development costs capitalized to date.

2. Significant Accounting Policies (cont'd)

(d) Revenue recognition

The Company recognizes revenues when they are earned, specifically when all the following conditions are met; services are provided, there is clear evidence that an arrangement exists, amounts are fixed or can be determined and collectability is reasonably assured.

The Company sells its services primarily through a joint operating agreement with a directory service provider. Revenues are earned through the sale of directory advertising. Advertising revenues are generally billed, in accordance with the contractual terms with the advertisers, and recognized on a monthly basis over the estimated life of the directory advertising, not exceeding twelve months, commencing with the month the service went into operation. The Company is entitled to and records 100% of the monthly amounts billed to the directory advertiser, net of certain direct costs of the directory service provider, until payout of certain operating and development costs incurred on a cumulative basis have been recovered by the Company. The Company makes a provision for bad debts and cancellations of contracts using management's best estimate. The provision is netted against accounts receivable and revenue. The provision is reviewed on a regular basis by management.

The Company recognizes service revenue relating to customer support and maintenance fees on a monthly basis when the service is provided. Service revenue consisting of revenue from consulting contracts and contracts to provide training and integration services are recorded on a percentage completion basis set forth in our contractual agreements.

(e) Cost of sales

The Company includes in cost of sales direct costs related to operating of the enhanced voice directory service which includes employee salaries and benefits, telephony costs, hosting, network, tuning and other third party charges.

(f) Equipment

Equipment is recorded at cost, less accumulated amortization. Amortization is provided on a straight-line basis over the estimated useful life of the assets.

The following is a summary of estimated useful lives of the assets:

Office furniture and equipment	5 years
Computer hardware	3 years
Computer software	1 year

(g) Other assets

The costs of acquiring and applying for patents, trademarks and licensed technology are capitalized and amortized on a straight-line basis over their estimated useful lives of five years. Amortization will be recorded upon commencement of product testing.

The costs of acquiring and applying for patents, trademarks and licensed technology costs do not necessarily reflect present or future values and the ultimate amount recoverable will be dependent upon the successful development and commercialization of products based on these intellectual properties. Management reviews the intellectual properties for impairment whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate that full recoverability is questionable. Management measures any potential impairment by comparing the carrying value to the undiscounted amounts of expected future cash flows.

2. Significant Accounting Policies (cont'd)

(h) Financial instruments

The Company carries a number of financial instruments. Unless otherwise indicated, it is management's opinion that the Company is not exposed to significant interest, currency or credit risks arising from these financial instruments. The fair values of these financial instruments approximate their carrying values, unless otherwise noted.

(i) Future income taxes

Income taxes are accounted for using the liability method of tax allocation. Future income taxes are recognized for the future income tax consequences attributable to differences between the carrying values of assets and liabilities and their respective income tax bases. Future income tax assets and liabilities are measured using substantively enacted income tax rates expected to apply to taxable income in the years in which temporary differences are expected to be recovered or settled. The effect on future income tax assets and liabilities of a change in rates is included in earnings in the year that includes the enactment date. Future income tax assets are recorded in the consolidated financial statements if realization is considered more likely than not.

(j) Earnings per share

Basic earnings per common share are computed by dividing earnings by the weighted average number of common shares outstanding for the year. Diluted per share amounts reflect the potential dilution that could occur if securities or other contracts to issue common shares were exercised or converted to common shares. The treasury stock method is used to determine the dilutive effect of stock options and other dilutive instruments, in accordance with standards approved by the Canadian Institute of Chartered Accountants.

(k) Stock based compensation

The Company has a stock-based compensation plan as described in Note 5(c). The Company accounts for its stock-based compensation programs using the fair value method. Under this method, stock based compensation expense related to these programs is recorded in the statement of earnings and retained earnings with the corresponding amount increasing contributed surplus over the vesting period.

(l) Measurement uncertainty

The preparation of financial statements requires management to make estimates based on currently available information. In particular, management makes estimates of profitability, cash flows and other relevant assumptions for the amounts recorded for the amortization of property and equipment and intangible assets and the valuation of property and equipment, intangible assets, the recognition of future tax assets, and the estimated value of stock-based compensation. By their very nature, these estimates are subject to measurement uncertainty and the effect of changes on the financial statements of future periods could be material. The effect on the financial statements resulting from a revision in estimates, if any, will be accounted for prospectively.

(m) Foreign Currency Translation

The Company's foreign subsidiary is an integrated foreign operation and is translated using the temporal method. Income and expense transactions in foreign currencies are translated into Canadian dollars at rates in effect at the date of the transaction. At the balance sheet date, monetary foreign currency assets and liabilities are translated at exchange rates then in effect and non-monetary items are translated at historical exchange rates. The resulting translation gain or loss is recognized in the determination of income.

7. Business Combination

On August 17, 2004, the Company completed the reverse takeover (“RTO”) of a public company GRD. Legally, GRD was the parent of CGI. However, as a result of the share exchange, control of the combined companies passed to the former shareholders of CGI. This type of share exchange deems CGI to be the acquirer for accounting purposes. Accordingly, the net assets of CGI are included in the balance sheet at book values and the deemed acquisition of GRD is accounted for by the purchase method with the net assets of GRD recorded at fair value at the date of acquisition.

The cost of an acquisition should be based on the fair value of the consideration given, except where the fair value of the consideration given is not clearly evident. In such case, the fair value of the net assets acquired is used.

The value of the 7,500,000 shares issued on acquisition was based on the fair value of the net assets acquired. (Note 5(b)). The fair value of the Company’s net assets was $1,512,656, which approximated carrying values as all the assets acquired substantially were cash and short term receivables.

The total purchase price of $1,512,656 has been allocated as follows:

Cash	$ 1,386,900
Accounts receivable	157,159

Combined tax rates	33%	33%
Expected income tax (recovery) at statutory rate	$ (2,697,134)	$ (863,243)

Future income tax assets are calculated and if the realization is not considered likely, a valuation allowance is provided. Comparative numbers are provided from audited December 31, 2006 statements as they would be more relevant when reading in conjunction with current interim statements.

Significant components of this future income tax asset include the following:

10. Indemnifications

(a) Directors and officers

Under the terms of the Company's by-laws the Company indemnifies individuals who have acted at the Company's request to be a director and/or officer of the Company, to the extent permitted by law, against any and all damages, liabilities, costs, charges or expenses suffered by or incurred by the individuals as a result of their service. The claims covered by such indemnifications are subject to statutory and other legal limitation periods. The nature of the indemnification agreements prevents the Company from making a reasonable estimate of the maximum potential amount it could be required to pay to beneficiaries of such indemnification agreements.

(b) Other

In the ordinary course of business, the Company enters into contracts which contain indemnification provisions, such as loan agreements, purchase contracts, service agreements, licensing agreements, asset purchase and sale agreements, operating agreements, leasing agreements, asset use agreements etc. In such contracts, the Company may indemnify counterparties to the contracts if certain events occur. These indemnification provisions vary on an agreement by agreement basis. In some cases, there are no pre-determined amounts or limits included in the indemnification provisions and the occurrence of contingent events that will trigger payment under them is difficult to predict. Therefore, the maximum potential future amount that the Company could be required to pay cannot be estimated.

12. Financial instruments

As disclosed in Note 2(h), the Company holds various forms of financial instruments. The nature of these instruments and the Company's operations expose the Company to credit risk and interest rate risk. The Company manages its exposure to these risks by operating in a manner that minimizes its exposure to the extent practical.

(a) Credit Risk

All the Company's trade accounts receivable are from one directory service provider and as such, the Company is exposed a concentration of credit risk. At September 30, 2007 all of the Company's cash was held at one financial institution.

(b) Foreign Exchange Risk

The Company is subject to foreign exchange risk for amounts denominated in foreign currencies. Foreign currency risk arises from the fluctuation of foreign exchange rates and the degree of volatility of the rates relative to the Canadian dollar. The Company does not actively manage this risk.

13. Economic Dependence

At September 30, 2007, the company earned the majority of its revenues from one directory service provider.

14. Subsequent Events
